Newsflash February 2017

First announcement - 7th EAAE PhD workshop 2017- November 8-10, Barcelona

Under the title Challenges for young agro-food and natural resource economists facing the future the Spanish Association of Agricultural Economics (AEEA) and the Centre for Research in Agrofood and Development Economics-UPC-IRTA (CREDA), with the support of the EAAE and the EAAEP Foundation, are organising the 7th EAAE PhD workshop. The workshop will be held in Castelldefels (Barcelona, Spain) on November 8-10, 2017. More information will follow as soon as possible. Deadline for extended abstract submissions 15th May, 2017. More preliminary information can be found here.

Horizon2020-funded authors can now publish in European Review of Agricultural Economics

Good news, the European Review of Agricultural Economics (ERAE) has been upgraded to 'green' on the SHERPA/RoMEO open-access-status website. 'Green' is the website's most liberal status in regard to a journal's policy towards authors self-archiving their articles. The SHERPA/RoMEO status is used by some research-funding agencies to limit the journals in which authors are allowed to publish articles resulting from the funding. Importantly, ERAE's 'green' rating means that agricultural economists that are involved with Horizon2020 projects are able to publish the resulting research in ERAE. For more information please see the ERAE's page on the SHERPA/RoMEO site.
